Season's Greetings
And Best Wishes For A Happy New Year!

A Message from Our Shepherds

Personal accountability! What do we mean by this? There are many people in this world that do not realize that they are accountable for the things that they do. There are those people who live life on "the edge." We are all going to be held accountable for the things we say and do while on this earth. We can rationalize in our minds that no one knows about what I have done, but God does! We are all going to be accountable for our actions in the judgment day. We are going to be accountable to God. In Rom. 14:12 we are told this in the simplest of terms, "So then each of us shall give account of himself to God." This should scare some people, as they will not be able to blame someone else for their actions.

The Bible also informs us of some things we are accountable for. We are going to be accountable for those things that we say. "But I say to you that for every idle word men may speak, they will give account of it in the day of judgment" Matt. 12:36. We will also be accountable for those things that we do. "For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, that each one may receive the things done in the body, according to what he has done, whether good or bad" 2 Cor. 5:10. We will also be held accountable for those possessions that we put before giving to the Lord and the cause of the Gospel, 2 Corinthians 9:6-8. We will be held accountable for those sins that we commit in our hearts, and minds.

"But I say to you that whoever looks at a woman to lust for her has already committed adultery with her in his heart" Matt. 5:28. We will be charged in that Day of Judgment for not doing what we know is right. "Therefore, to him who knows to do good and does not do it, to him it is sin" James 4:17.

Yes personal accountability should scare us. We know that we need to be careful in what we say and do and think. Let us take a personal inventory of our lives and turn to God for the answers.

“Look therefore carefully how ye walk, not as unwise, but as redeeming the time, because the days are evil. Wherefore be ye not foolish, but understand what the will of the Lord is. And be not drunken with wine, wherein is riot, but be filled with the Spirit; speaking one to another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody with your heart to the Lord; giving thanks always for all things in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to God, even the Father; subjecting yourselves one to another in the fear of Christ” (Eph 5:15-21).

Loving The Word Of The Lord

“Oh how love I thy law! It is my meditation all the day. Thy commandments make me wiser than mine enemies; for they are ever with me. I have more understanding than all my teachers; for thy testimonies are my meditation. I understand more than the aged, because I have kept thy precepts. I have refrained my feet from every evil way, that I might observe thy word. I have not turned aside from thine ordinances; for thou hast taught me. How sweet are thy words unto my taste! Yea, sweeter than honey to my mouth! Through thy precepts I get understanding: Therefore I hate every false way” (Psm 119:97-104).

The Psalmist helps us see why he was one who sought God. He loved the word of God and thought about it frequently during the day. God’s word cheered sagging spirits and lifted hopes of the pilgrim along the path he trudged. The word of the Lord was a light unto his ways and a lamp unto his path (Psm 119:105). Reciting the word of the Lord and speaking it was like unto having the sweetness of honey in the mouth. The psalmist had an intense and ardent love which displays his being free from condemnation. Anyone who has been set free from sin reflects in wonder how God loves him and that the true religion of God blesses and blesses over and over again. God’s word has teaching power beyond this world. It makes the redeemed wiser than the worldly individual. Duties of life are the highest endowment bestowed upon a believer. With the Law of God never far away and being able to recall it there can be a designed life with obligations that constantly give God the glory. Setting forth the excellencies of God enlarges understanding. From a young man to the excellence of a wise aged man the psalmist has been guided in the path of righteousness for God’s sake (Psm 23:1-6). Days and years of study produce wisdom (Job 22:12; 1 Kg 4:31. 32). Knowledge and wisdom are available from heaven (Psm 19:1-10). God’s wisdom is more to be desired than what can be acquired from secular study.

Characteristically the psalmist finds time to think and seek true piety. Piety carries out the aims and purposes of God. No one can be truly pious without a deep foundation and personal sincerity concerning the word of the Lord. Pious individuals have a character which is valued, even by those who are vile and reproachful. God’s laws [precepts] communicate a vast array of truth and wisdom which is contrasted with false and evil.

The psalmist presents a free-will offering constantly. It is a delight to know that God accepts the fruit of his lips (Heb 13:15). Knowing the judgments of God enables the psalmist to make wise choices in life. Rehearsing God’s law, principle and promises helped him never to forget the danger of being ungrateful to God, his Creator and Sustainer. There is a righteous indignation burning within the psalmist. No vile thoughts can be enjoyed for a season (Heb 11:25). Vileness of the heart impedes spiritual growth and stymies religious fervor. Psalm 119 was a tool Hebrew children read to learn their alphabet. It was impressed upon their minds from childhood. Steadfastness is acquired through practice and determination. “...Be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord...” (1 Cor 15:58). Don Hatch
